THE STEVENSON CASE.

DISMISSED BY JUSTICE HAWTHORNE YESTERDAY.

The Defense not Required to Present Evidence.

Yesterday Louis Stevenson charged with an attempt to bribe County Commissioner Bray was called in the District Court room, Justice Hawthorne presiding.

BRAY WAS NOT APPROACHED. Commissioner Bray was the first witness called. He stated that he had a conversation with Mr. Stevenson regarding the erection of a windmill for the County Poor Farm.

During that conversation Mr. Stevenson did not offer him a bribe or say anything which he could construe into a bribe or offer of one. He offered him no consideration and the talking was all done on the open sidewalk where passers by could hear everything if they chose.

He mentioned something about there being "something in it" at the figures he quoted for the mill but did not consider it was meant for him and did not so construe it. There was some mention of rebate and this he took to mean the county got the benefit of.

THE "DANNING LETTER."

The next piece of evidence, was the "darning letter" received by Bray from Stevenson and published in the Tribune. It was read and made part of the evidence.

S. P. Davis was next put on the stand and asked to identify the hand writing in the letter as Stevenson's. He did so and on cross examination produced an exact copy of it sent from Reno to witness in the same mail that the Bray letter was sent. The postmark of the letter, July 27, was admitted in evidence. Witness then swore that the letter written to Bray by Stevenson was written at the suggestion of the witness to give Bray a scare and help stave off the meeting of the Grand Jury until witness could secure additional evidence against the ring, which he was at that time on the track of.

The minutes of the Board of Commissioners relative to the windmill contract were next introduced. The District Attorney held that as Judge Rising had issued a bench warrant the Court had no right to overrule his action.

Attorney Jones of Reno made a beautiful chopping block of this argument and the court remarked that he was frank to say that he saw no reason to hold the defendant. Wm. Woodburn made a ten minute talk and showed that no case whatever had been made out. The defense did not even introduce evidence.

THE CASE DISMISSED.

The defendant was ordered discharged as there was no evidence whatever upon which the defendant could be held.

She Wines.

The gold-bug organs pretend to think that the People's party is simply a side-show, but the two old parties are begging lustily for the People's party to pull them out of the mud. In Kansas, Iowa, Nebraska and Dakota the Democrats are begging the People's party to take them in out of the wet. In Georgia, Tennessee, Mississippi, Alabama and Texas the Republicans are crying out to the mighty armies of the People's party, "Save; oh, save or we perish." In Nevada the Republicans are on bended knees to the Democrats, begging them to put an electoral Cleveland ticket as a bait to catch as many as possible of the silver party voters who heretofore trained with the party, while they are using soap, lying promises, the party knout and threats by turns to induce the members of the Silver party who heretofore affiliated with the g. o. p. to abandon Weaver for Harrison. "Let the galled jade wine."—Silver State.

The silver leagues throughout the State should see that no delegate to the coming State convention is elected who is not unequivocally in favor of indorsing the silver electoral ticket. For Republicans to put an electoral ticket in the field would show the people outside that Nevadans were not sincere in their demand for free coinage. It would also be the cause of the silver leagues putting in the field a candidate for congress and supreme judge, and a straight ticket in many of the counties. This would not be a desirable situation, for the main point that we ought to keep in sight on election day—the electoral ticket—would be lost sight of in the little personal fights that would be on hand. The silver league members want nothing this year but to win the electoral fight. This will be a large point, and show what may be expected in this State two years hence.—Lyon County Times.

There at Cost.

The Bonynghams have finally been able to effect an entrance into London society.

They left the Comstock with enormous wealth some years ago and went to London with the idea of cutting a wide swath in England.

They failed. Since then they have been persistently knocking at the doors of fashion and getting no response.

This is a sad world in which people skin their knuckles year after year trying to get in where they are not wanted. Then they concluded to marry their daughter to a Prince a Duke or Baron and finely with a dowry of nearly a million she has effected a matrimonial alliance with a Major in the Horse guards, and the family is happy.

Now that the family can strut with the other fashionables of London the old man is about ready to die. The d—fool crop is still large.
